

AIA Michigan Monday's Minutes

Cathy Mosley, Hon. Aff. AIAMI
Executive Director

August 12, 2013
Edition 8.2

Happy Monday!

I am on my way back from the Mid Summer Conference on Mackinac Island and I am happy that the rain held off until today! It was a wonderful conference with great speakers, generous sponsors, and of course, a beautiful setting.

We still have a few tickets available for the upcoming

"Tiger Tailgate" event! The tailgate party at the DAC will be followed with a great game against the Cleveland Indians on Friday, August 30th. We hope you will start your Labor Day weekend off right with your fellow AIA members, so be sure to register on the website today!

Please mark your calendar for the Design Retreat September 20-21st and keep an eye out for more information and the event flyer in future emails. The AIAMI Annual Meeting on October 25th and more information about that event will be coming out next month. Watch the website for future updates!

Have a great week and we hope you stop by the Beaubien House for a visit or a tour if you are in Detroit!

Sincerely,

Cathy Mosley, Hon. Aff. AIAMI
AIA Michigan Executive Director

September 6, 2013

Kendall College of Art and Design (WNF building, Rm 217)
17 Pearl Street NW, Downtown Grand Rapids, MI 49503

The cultural heritage of many communities is brought to focus by the built environment. From the Quaker villages of New England to the beach houses in California, the city beautiful movement in Philadelphia to Heritage Hill of Grand Rapids, buildings become the story teller.

The American Architectural Foundation (AAF) and the National Park Service are finalizing negotiations on an agreement which will recognize the American Architectural Foundation as the new private partner of Save America's Treasures. AAF has been a strong advocate for Save Americas Treasures and received two grants to restore the only remaining presentation model of the World Trade Center complex, and to preserve and restore the Octagon, a historic landmark in Washington, DC, that served as the White House after the British burned Washington.

Ron Bogle, Hon. AIA, President of the AAF, will discuss plans for Save America's Treasures and AAF's new Center for Design and Cultural Heritage. It will focus on connecting historic sites, buildings and communities to the stories that help us better understand our history and shared cultural heritage.

Robert Theel, Chief Architect of General Services Administration Region 5, will talk about historic courthouses and legacy in the region: how they have anchored the community and how they have been reused through federal disposition. Through these transformations, downtowns are revitalized.

Tom Mathison and Gene Hopkins, Design Principal from TowerPinkster and Preservation Architect from Hopkins Burns Studio, will tell the story of the Woodbridge N. Ferris Building reinvention. From federal courthouse to city museum, Kendall College of Art and Design is its newest owner. Design adaptation, interior reenvisioning and placemaking are at the core of this project. The building received its LEED Gold certification in late 2012.

Bob Dickensheets (or Joyce Lee) will give an overview of a recent courthouse renovation halfway around the world in Hong Kong. A mid-century British courthouse was recently rehabilitated to house the Savannah College of Art and Design and the building received UNESCO Asia recognition and sustainability award from the American Institute of Architects Hong Kong.
