

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

American Institute of Architects elevates one local architect to the College of Fellows

Less than three percent of the architecture profession achieve AIA Fellowship.

Detroit, MI – March 11, 2020 – The American Institute of Architects (AIA) is elevating one AIA member from AIA Michigan to its prestigious College of Fellows, AIA’s highest membership honor, for their exceptional work and contributions to architecture and society.

The fellowship program was developed to elevate those architects who have achieved a standard of excellence in the profession and made a significant contribution to architecture and society on a national level. Architects who have been elevated to fellowship can be identified by the designation FAIA after their name.

Included in the list below is the newly elevated member AIA Michigan:

- Brian K. Craig, FAIA, Firm Name

Visit AIA National’s website for more information on College of Fellows or to view the complete list of newly elevated architect fellows. New fellows will be honored at a ceremony in May at the AIA Conference on Architecture 2020 in Los Angeles.
