American Institute of Architects elevates two local architects to the College of Fellows

Less than three percent of the architecture profession achieve AIA Fellowship.

Detroit – February 17, 2021 - The American Institute of Architects (AIA) is elevating two AIA members from AIA Michigan to its prestigious College of Fellows, AIA's highest membership honor, for their exceptional work and contributions to architecture and society.

The fellowship program was developed to elevate those architects who have achieved a standard of excellence in the profession and made a significant contribution to architecture and society on a national level. Architects who have been elevated to fellowship can be identified by the designation FAIA after their name.

Included in the list below are the newly elevated members from AIA Michigan:

- Brian Hurttienne, FAIA, Christian Hurttienne Architects
- Sandra Little, FAIA, Quinn Evans Architects

Visit [AIA National's](http://AIA National's) website for more information on College of Fellows or to view the complete list of newly elevated architect fellows..
