

HopkinsBurns

DESIGN STUDIO

historic preservation & communities by design

Architecture firm seeking Intern Architect

Intern Architect with interest in all aspects of architecture, including historic preservation, from research and analysis to design, as well as creating construction documents. This is a full time position.

Interested individuals should be motivated, self-directed, and interested in being a part of a highly collaborative office setting. As a small firm engaged in a variety of project types, there is great opportunity for diverse challenges and growth. We welcome your energy, passion and unique point of view. Proficiency in AutoCAD and Revit is required. Proficiency in Adobe Creative Suite is preferred.

While we are based in Ann Arbor, the office has been operating virtually since March of 2020. Our collaborative culture has allowed this to work very successfully and this will be a key part of how we work moving forward. Interested individuals should not feel limited by their current location.

HopkinsBurns Design Studio is a practice dedicated to retaining and revitalizing our existing built resources – cultural & environmental. Our work ranges from public buildings to residential projects in the practice areas of historic preservation and communities by design. Visit our website at www.hopkinsburns.com for a portfolio of our projects.

Interested parties should submit their letter of interest with resume to:
elizabeth.sensoli@hopkinsburns.com