Happy Monday!

Last week was quite busy but also quite rewarding. I attended the LTU AIAS showing of the film "Archiculture" on Thursday. The film was followed by a panel discussion. Monitoring this discussion was Dean Glen LeRoy, FAIA accompanied by: Cynthia K. Pozolo, FAIA, LEED AP BD+C from SmithGroupJJR, Tamara Burns, AIA, from HopkinsBurns and James Stevens, AIA, from LTU Faculty. It was a great discussion and it was great to see so many students attend the event.

On Friday, I traveled to Lansing for a Government Affairs meeting during the day and in Grand Rapids in the evening for the "Courthouse is in Session: Shaping Livable Cities-- Community and Connection" event at the Kendall College of Art and Design. The Government Affairs meeting was productive and the Kendall event was very informative and both prove that there is a lot happening in the architecture community across the state!

On Saturday, Monica Ponce de Leon, AIA and Gregory Saldana of MPdL Studio lead our group through the "Michigan Modern: Design That Shaped America" exhibition at the Cranbrook Art Museum that they designed and curated. Christine attended this event and reports that the tour was informative and the exhibit is a must-see, so be sure to visit before the exhibit closes on October 13th. A big "thank you" to Monica and Gregory for donating their time for this event!

Custom Residential Architects Network (CRAN): Coming soon to Michigan!

On behalf of Dawn Zuber, AIA:

I am interested in starting a Custom Residential Architects Network (CRAN) committee in Southeast Michigan. CRAN is AIA's newest Knowledge Community, and we have over 1,200 members nationally. I have served on the Advisory Group at AIA National for the past 4 years, and have found a supportive community of architects who specialize in custom residential projects, including new homes and additions/remodeling. On a national level, we organize a symposium for residential practitioners each fall-the recent symposium in Santa Fe was a rousing success! In addition, we have been organizing a publication of exemplary single-family residential design called Houses for All Regions, a series of short videos about residential architecture called CRANtv, a compilation of resources for residential architects and our clients, a quarterly newsletter, and much more...

There are many residential architects in Southeast Michigan, and I believe that we could all benefit from organizing meetings and

-September 20-21, 2013: AIA Michigan Design Retreat, Torch Lake

-October 19-20, 2013: AIA Michigan CEPR's ARE Weekend Seminar, Southfield

-October 25, 2013: AIA Michigan Annual Meeting Day

events specifically for our needs. Because I am a sole practitioner, and I am still involved with CRAN on the national level, I don't have time to be the champion for starting a CRAN committee on the local level, but I would be happy to support someone with the vision and drive to do the heavy lifting.

If you feel that AIA does nothing for residential architects, this is the committee for you!
